UTAC Receives Supplier Excellence Award from Airoha Technology Corp.

Singapore, 13 February 2015 – UTAC Holdings Ltd (UTAC), a Singapore-based semiconductor testing and assembly services provider, announced that it has received the “2014 Supplier Excellence Award” from Airoha Technology Corp. (Airoha), a leading fabless design house for wireless communication products. UTAC received the award in recognition of its high-quality system in package (SiP) assembly and test solutions and excellent customer service.

Airoha awarded the award to five suppliers in different categories at a ceremony held on 2 February 2015. UTAC was one of the outsourced assembly and test (OSAT) suppliers to receive this award from Airoha.

“The Airoha supplier excellence award recognises suppliers who demonstrated excellence in quality, on-time delivery, technology, flexibility and cost competitiveness over the last year. We organise this award to reflect the importance of having excellent suppliers to our success and look forward to continuing partnership with suppliers that exceeded our expectations such as UTAC,” said Dr. David Chang, President and CEO of Airoha.

“UTAC is honoured to receive this award. It is a testament of our unwavering focus and commitment to develop innovative, high-quality semiconductor packaging and testing solutions to support customers in achieving key business objectives. We thank Airoha for recognising our contributions and look forward to continuing this close partnership,” said Mr Jeff Osmun, Senior Vice President, Worldwide Sales.”

UTAC (Shanghai) Company Ltd, General Manager Mr Lim Ket Syn, receives the award from Dr. David Chang, President and CEO, Airoha Technology Corp at Airoha's annual company celebration in Taiwan.
